1. In November 1951 the South China Sub-Bureau instructed the Pearl River Area Communist Party Headquarters to establish a Military Veterans School.¹ The purpose of the school was to educate ex-servicemen who had become party political workers but who had no basic schooling background.
2. Over 60 ex-servicemen were to be enrolled in the school to undergo a two year course, which aimed at raising their level of education to Middle School standards. Their weekly program was to include ten lessons of Chinese, six lessons of arithmetic, four of history, two of physiology and hygiene, and four of politics.
3. Since November several meetings have been held, the seventh of which took place on 18 February 1952 in the Pearl River Party Headquarters. Twenty-nine members of the Preparatory Committee of the school were present, among whom were:
